In a thriving real estate career that has spanned everything from architecture and new construction to property development, investment properties, construction management, and luxury sales, the one common denominator for Maureen Reynolds has always been an unparalleled passion for her profession. It's rare to see in any industry, but Reynolds truly loves what she does—which is no surprise, considering she learned early in life all that goes into creating a beautiful home.

Not only was her father a custom builder focusing on Bucks County towns like Buckingham, but one of her grandfathers was involved in construction as well and the other was an architect. Needless to say, the zeal was passed on to her, and she decided to become a Realtor with the goal of leaving a lasting impact on a wide range of clients.

"Growing up around real estate, I developed a deep love for houses, construction, and historical properties," Reynolds says. "I was fascinated by the architecture and the rich history of Bucks County. Being surrounded by this world made me appreciate the beauty and potential in each property. I wanted to continue the family tradition and rience but a diverse skillset that few in the field can match.

“My business strategy is built on a foundation of leveraging market data, honed negotiating skills, and consistent communication,” she says. “I firmly believe that my practical and results-driven approach is what sets me apart. It’s not just about closing deals; it’s about building lasting relationships with my clients and industry professionals alike. I have a deep appreciation for local neighborhoods, and my ability to navigate competitive markets has allowed me to consistently deliver exceptional outcomes. My clients’ goals are my goals, and exceeding their expectations is always my top priority.”

Reynolds has a particular fondness for the luxury market, where she finds it rewarding to help clients from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and even other countries discover their dream homes in Bucks County, Montgomery County, or Philadelphia. All it takes is one look at her current listings and it’s easy to understand why this niche appeals to her, as the properties are a showcase of the stunning and unique offerings this area has to offer.

Take The Château, for example, a 10,000-square-foot, French-style residence in Bucks County that perfectly blends old-world charm with modern luxury. Built from hand-cut stone and featuring soaring 22-foot ceilings adorned with intricate crown moldings and decadent arches, the home has an atmosphere of unmatched elegance. Some of the highlights include two limestone staircases, a luxurious primary suite on the main level, a chef’s kitchen, a formal parlor, an elegant dining room, and a conservatory with glass and steel doors. Outdoors, an in-ground saltwater heated pool is surrounded by meticulously landscaped gardens.

“It’s an idyllic setting for year-round enjoyment and entertaining,” Reynolds says. “This home is not just a residence; it’s a masterpiece of architectural excellence and opulence waiting to be experienced.”

Reynolds’ specialization in luxury sales makes her a perfect fit for SERHANT., a brokerage unlike any other that was founded by Ryan Serhant, the star of Million Dollar Listing on Bravo. Now the company is set to debut a new show on Netflix on June 28 called Owning Manhattan, and Reynolds is thrilled to be part of it all.

“What drew me to SERHANT. is their innovative approach and dynamic energy,” she says. “They’re not your typical brokerage; they’re always ahead of the curve with fresh ideas and cutting-edge technology. SERHANT. offers clients a unique and refreshing experience with top-notch marketing and personalized service that you just can’t find anywhere else. It’s exciting to be part of a team that’s revolutionizing the real estate industry.”

Reynolds is equally proud of the mentoring she provides to aspiring Realtors and young professionals. One of her daughters, Madison Reynolds, recently joined her team and has already sold multiple high-end homes in the past year.

“Collaborating with her on several new development projects and building the company together not only strengthens our bond as a family but also injects fresh perspectives and innovative ideas into our business endeavors,” Reynolds says. “Together, we look forward to making significant contributions to the ever-evolving landscape of real estate.”

Beyond her professional life, Reynolds is a strong supporter of various charitable causes, and brings the same dedication to these endeavors that she is known for in real estate.

“Community service is incredibly important to me because it allows me to give back to the place that has given me so much,” she says. “Being active in the community helps build stronger connections and makes a positive impact on the lives of others. Some causes that are dear to me include working with the Greater New Hope Chamber of Commerce, Bucks County Chamber of Commerce, New Hope Historical Society, and the SPCA. These organizations are vital in supporting local businesses, preserving our rich history, and caring for animals in need. Contributing to these causes is a way for me to help make our community a better place for everyone.” ■
